

Questions to Ask Yourself

1. Do you want to do applied work?
 - a. Yes, I want to work with humans in the community
 - b. No, I'm fine with working with humans in a lab and/or through a data lens
2. How interested are you in research?
 - a. I love research and want to focus almost exclusively on a research career.
 - b. Research is fine, but I want to be primarily focused on clinical care.
 - c. I really, really don't want to do research.
3. What will your research experience be by the time you graduate?
 - a. Little-to-no research experiences (e.g. lab courses, independent projects, theses)
 - b. Minimal research experience (some exposure, <1 year)
 - c. Substantial pre-graduation research experience (e.g. lots of exposure, no post-graduation experience)
 - d. Substantial pre- and post-graduation research experience (e.g. post-baccalaureate position)
4. Are you open to putting in 1-2 years of research post-graduation before grad school? YES NO
5. Would at least one faculty member write you a GLOWING rec letter? YES NO

Questions to Ask Yourself

1. Do you want to do applied work?
 - a. Yes, I want to work with humans in the community
 - b. No, I'm fine with working with humans in a lab and/or through a data lens
2. How interested are you in research?
 - a. I love research and want to focus almost exclusively on a research career.
 - b. Research is fine, but I want to be primarily focused on clinical care.
 - c. I really, really don't want to do research.
3. What will your research experience be by the time you graduate?
 - a. Little-to-no research experiences (e.g. lab courses, independent projects, theses)
 - b. Minimal research experience (some exposure, <1 year)
 - c. Substantial pre-graduation research experience (e.g. lots of exposure, no post-graduation experience)
 - d. Substantial pre- and post-graduation research experience (e.g. post-baccalaureate position)
4. Are you open to putting in 1-2 years of research post-graduation before grad school? YES NO
5. Would at least one faculty member write you a GLOWING rec letter? YES NO

6. Would you be satisfied with a degree that exclusively focused on kids?
- Yes, I want to focus on pediatric mental health.
 - Yes, I want to focus on pediatric disabilities and/or education.
 - No, I want to focus on adults
7. Is taking out a lot of loans for graduate school a deal-breaker? YES NO
8. How old do you want to be when you get your first “real” job? _____
9. Psychology licensure requires an internship that is often governed by a “match” system similar to residency. Are you open to being “matched” with sites via a competitive ranking process, which may require a one-year move?
- I have never heard of the psychology match, sounds fun
 - I have never heard of the psychology match, and this terrifies me.
 - I am open to the match system.
10. Are you geographically restricted? YES NO
11. Are you open to moving for a postdoctoral fellowship? YES NO
12. If you had to guess, what percentile would you fall for GRE and GPA?
- Generally very high GPA and strong GRE scores (75% and up)
 - Average GPA and/or GRE
 - Average or high GPA but below average GRE (<50%)

6. Would you be satisfied with a degree that exclusively focused on kids?
- Yes, I want to focus on pediatric mental health.
 - Yes, I want to focus on pediatric disabilities and/or education.
 - No, I want to focus on adults
7. Is taking out a lot of loans for graduate school a deal-breaker? YES NO
8. How old do you want to be when you get your first “real” job? _____
9. Psychology licensure requires an internship that is often governed by a “match” system similar to residency. Are you open to being “matched” with sites via a competitive ranking process, which may require a one-year move?
- I have never heard of the psychology match, sounds fun
 - I have never heard of the psychology match, and this terrifies me.
 - I am open to the match system.
10. Are you geographically restricted? YES NO
11. Are you open to moving for a postdoctoral fellowship? YES NO
12. If you had to guess, what percentile would you fall for GRE and GPA?
- Generally very high GPA and strong GRE scores (75% and up)
 - Average GPA and/or GRE
 - Average or high GPA but below average GRE (<50%)